Residence at house formerly occupied by Mrs. Marshall Robinson.

OFFICE HOURS:—9 to 11 A. M. to 5 P. M.

ALL SORTS.

—Wizard Oil at Geo. Thaxter's.
—No 4th of July boom here yet.

—The train was two hours late yesterday.

—Geo. M. Stewart was in the city yesterday.

—The business in the Police Court is very dull.

—The auction sale continues to draw a big crowd.

—The school teachers got their warrants yesterday.

—FOR SALE.—A first class square piano. Inquire at this office.

—The weather feels earthy, and another storm is predicted.

—The Governor is as yet undecided where he will celebrate.

—The report that Sullivan and Kilrane were to fight with kid gloves turned out to be a canard.

—FOR SALE.—A large roomy residence in the Western part of the city. Fine location. Apply at this office.

—The wool clip up the valley this year has been very large, and shipments are going over the road continually.

—Attention is called to the Cemetery water adv. This is done to save the trouble of a collector running about town.

—A L. Barney, Secretary of the Home Benefit Life Association was in the city yesterday looking after the business of the company.

—The APPEAL acknowledges the receipt of a ticket to the 4th anniversary of the Esmeralda Lodge, K. of P., to take place June 14th, at Hawthorne.

—Prof. Friend is at work on a seismometer, an instrument to measure the duration of earthquake shocks. A pan of molasses will give you the direction of the shock about as well as anything.

—The pictures of the shooting team are on exhibition at Thaxter's. The general opinion is that a prize for the homeliest man would lie between Sam Wright and Hub Parker.

—This is the way the Pioche Record puts it: The belles of Pioche are dusting up their old cotton backed velvet sashes in anticipation of the coming picnic to be held in Condor Canyon on the 5th of June.

—There is now good foundation for hoping that Shaw's Springs will come out all right. A little more development is all that is needed to place the old resort on its feet again. Everyday that the work goes on brightens the prospects.

—People who go down to Bower's Mansion tomorrow, are warned by the Enterprise to have some kind of a bathing suit on, which at least comes up to the waist. That's right; any lady found in the pond without being covered to the waist will be put off the grounds at once.

—Mrs. Horace Rood, living near Salmon City, Idaho, was shot by a drunken Indian last week because she would not buy a pony. Her wound is not necessarily fatal. She was alone with her four children. The Indian shot twice through the window. The second shot passed over the head of one of the children while in bed, through the bedstead and lodged in the wall of the house.

The Big Ball Game

The big base ball match for $100 a side between the Amateurs of Carson and the Resolutes of Virginia will be played on the old grounds in the Southwestern part of the city back of the Catholic Church. Each side is positive of winning and the game will be closely contested. It will be called at 1:30 P. M., tomorrow.

Rotten London.

Editor Stead was jailed for making some terrible exposures of the social rottenness in London. Recently a case came up in the Court which confirmed Stead's statement and showed that a gang of procurers were securing children for brothels. These children ranged from five to twelve years of age.

Order Eastern Star.

There will be a special meeting of Esther Chapter No. 3, on Saturday evening, the 11th inst., at 7:30 o'clock. A full attendance is desired, as business of importance will come before the Chapter.

By order of the WORTHY MATRON.

NOT A STAGE HUSBAND.

Mrs. James Chesley Divorced From Her Husband.

The following from the Post will be of interest to parties in this city:

The husbands of the stage are proverbially easy going and not prone to complain of attentions that come to their wives in the way of business, but once in a while an actress happens to have a husband who does not consider that by appearing on the stage his wife's relations undergo any change. It was his inability to understand the nice distinctions of stage and unprofessional etiquette that caused Mr. Chesley to injure his knuckles and Mr. John Chretien to carry around a disfigured face.

Mr. James Chesley is the husband of Elenor Berry, who recently went on the stage. Mr. John Chretien is an attorney who has considerable business with theatrical people, and is not entirely unconnected with the dramatic department of an enterprising newspaper. Mr. James Chesley got to believe that in his professional capacity Mr. John Chretien had given advice to Miss Elenor Berry that was inimical to the domestic peace of the Chesley family, and anxious to impress the attorney with the sense of the impropriety of such conduct, Mr. Chesley arranged his business to bring about an evening interview, from which the attorney retired with a much damaged face. The cruel war is not yet over.

It appears that Elenor Berry procured a divorce from James Chesley more than three weeks ago, but the matter was kept quiet. After the divorce she consulted Chretien about some of the proceedings with which he was familiar, though another attorney had been substituted at his request, and it was this consultation which aroused the ire of her late husband.

An Error Acknowledged.

The News Reporter says: Our information to the effect that the C. & C. and V. & T. railroads discriminate against Dayton in favor of Reno in the matter of freight rates on ore is incorrect. We frankly acknowledge our error, and are indebted to General Freight Agent D. A. Bender for calling our attention to it. Accompanying his letter was a "special ore and base metal tariff" showing that the rate charged by the C. & C. and V. & T. railroads for hauling ore from Southern points is 50 cents per ton less to Dayton than to Reno.

Pythian Officers.

At the Grand Lodge, Knights of Pythias, held at Reno, the following officers were elected: Supreme Representative, C. C. Powning, of Reno; Grand Chancellor, M. C. McMillan, of Virginia City; Grand Vice Chancellor, W. W. Rogers, of Elko; Grand Prelate, D. F. Morton, of Dayton; Grand Keeper of Records and Seal, Nate W. Roff, of Reno; Grand Master of Exchequer, J. P. Meder, of Carson; Trustees, John Ross, L. L. Elrod and L. H. Curry.

Blooded Stock Yards.

Reno has become excited over the fact that Carson has secured the stock yards and now propose to go one better and build a stock yard where blooded stock can be sold. A good many men want to buy blooded stock and a good many want to sell but do not know where to find each other. When the blooded stock yards are under way the State will not be obliged to send the Superintendent of the Orphan's Home, to Sacramento to purchase blooded stock.

Pink at Bower's Mansion.

There will leave here this morning two cars for the picnic grounds at Bower's Mansion. Prof. Bray, the manager, is in town to day attending to the details of the arrangement. He says the grounds are in excellent condition. The schools of Virginia City, Gold Hill, Carson City and Reno will be largely represented, and it is expected that there will be a large attendance of pleasure-seekers.

The Lake House.

Some of the Knights who visited Reno spoke in glowing terms of the Lake House now run by Stoddard & Twiss. You feel as much at home as if you were visiting your country relatives just after harvest time.

—Several shocks of earthquake have occurred in Turkistan, destroying towns and killing hundreds of people.

CIGARETTE LAW.

How it is Evaded in Carson.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE APPEAL.

—Last winter the Legislature passed a law making it an offense for any cigar dealer to sell cigarettes to any boy under 18 years of age. Now, Mr. Editor, my son is only aged sixteen and he smokes cigarettes all the while and tells me he can get them of any dealer in town. If this is true why do not the police see that the law is obeyed. I would give $100 to break my boy of this bad habit, and I want you to publish the names of the dealers who have sold my boy cigarettes, and see that they are arrested and fined.

Yours,

[The name of the lady is withheld, as are also the names of the dealers. The APPEAL, while it sympathizes with the mother of the cigarette boy, cannot act in the capacity of the District Attorney or Police; nor does it care to publish the names of people who have broken the law, except upon the best of proof. If the lady wants the case attended to she can swear out a complaint in the Justice Court and the authorities will act. ED. APPEAL.]

A Desperate Battle With a Burglar.

NEW YORK, June 9.—A Bridgeport special says: Samuel A. Barnum, a retired business man, woke yesterday morning and found a burglar in his room. "Who are you?" inquired Barnum. The burglar said "Hush!" and sprang to the side of the bed with a dagger, which he held over Barnum. The latter grappled with the burglar, and they had a terrible fight along the hall tearing up the carpet and spattering the walls with blood. The burglar then stabbed Barnum in the face twice, but by a desperate effort Barnum threw his assailant into a bathtub. The burglar then stabbed Barnum in the shoulder and twisted the dagger round. Barnum now called for help.

By this time the whole family was in the hall. Mrs. Barnum was screaming and her daughter was frantic with fear. Mrs. Barnum's son rushed to his father's assistance and they secured the burglar. Mrs. Barnum went down stairs and procured a clothesline, and the prisoner was tied hand and foot, carried down stairs and lashed to the stair railing.

A messenger was sent for an officer, while Mrs. Barnum and her son watched their prisoner and her daughter tried to stop the bleeding of her father's wounds. Barnum had been stabbed five times, twice in the face, twice in the shoulder and once in the foot. The point of the dagger was broken off in the scuffle, and to this fact possibly Barnum owes his life.

A Teamster Killed.

The Times-Review says S. D. Topping left Tuscarora Saturday with a load of supplies for Bailey & Ellis, of Bull Run Basin. A party of prospectors found the unfortunate man near Jack Creek, lying beside the overturned wagon, in the afternoon of that day still breathing but unconscious, and the animals firmly held down by the tongue of the wagon. It is supposed that Topping fell asleep on the wagon, and not applying the brake in descending a hill, the wagon crowded the team and caused them to leave the road, which capsize the load. Deceased was a native of Ohio, 57 years of age, and came to this Coast in 1853.

Agriculture.

That the country back of Carson is gradually building up, there can be no mistake. Each year the demand for agricultural machinery increases and now the farmers want the best of everything that can be had for money. Yesterday E. B. Rail received a two-car load consignment of agricultural machinery. Wagons, mowers, rakes, plows etc., on the walk in front of his building it look like the pavilion of a county fair. He is constantly receiving orders from Hawthorne, Wabaska, Candelaria and the country South of Carson.

Restaurant to Reopen.

E. Brian, who used to be the caterer at the Palace Restaurant, Reno, and late of the Ormsby House, has rented Sweeney's Restaurant, and will open it tomorrow. Mr. Brian is well up in the art of cooking palatable dishes, and knows how to make his guests feel at home.
